

environment

The diagram illustrates the interaction between an environment and an agent. The environment is represented by a red box at the top, and the agent is represented by an orange box at the bottom. Three curved arrows connect them: one from environment to agent labeled 'state', one from environment to agent labeled 'reward', and one from agent to environment labeled 'action'.

state

reward

action

agent